Ohio Treasurer wants to leverage private money to fix public challenges

Ohio Treasurer Robert Sprague wants to make it easier for private funding to help combat the opioid epidemic, algae blooms in Lake Erie and other issues typically dealt with using public dollars.

Sprague is lobbying state lawmakers to set aside funding for a pay-for-success model dubbed ResultsOhio that would reimburse nonprofit organizations and others that can demonstrate success in making progress against such problems...

"The Ohio Children's Hospital Association applauds Treasurer Sprague's initiative to support programs that have proven to be effective and deliver results and strong return on investment to benefit all Ohioans. In working toward our mission to advocate in partnership with our patients, families and communities for continuous child health improvement, we create and support programs that are evidence-based and results-driven. With a focus on challenges such as child health, infant mortality, addiction, early childhood education preparedness and workforce training, we believe Treasurer Sprague's 'ResultsOHIO' will help to identify and amplify programs and partnerships that follow these same principles to promote best outcomes for Ohioans, including our state's children."
